

Submission 07 – Jacqueline Whittaker

I'm concerned about the noise pollution of drones. I'm also concerned about the environmental impact on wild life, especially birds and any other animal impacted by the noise and presence of drones. There needs to be more research into these areas before commercial drones are allowed. There needs to be continual community feedback, before and after any trials. I can see that there could be many benefits as well, as long as it's well thought out and all things are considered.
